HE Board of Editors, representing the Class of 1909, of Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., present herewith the seventeenth volume of the Pot-Pourri, and the thirteenth volume of the Senior Class Book.

Seven years ago it was deemed advisable to unite the two annuals as better results could be obtained by so doing.

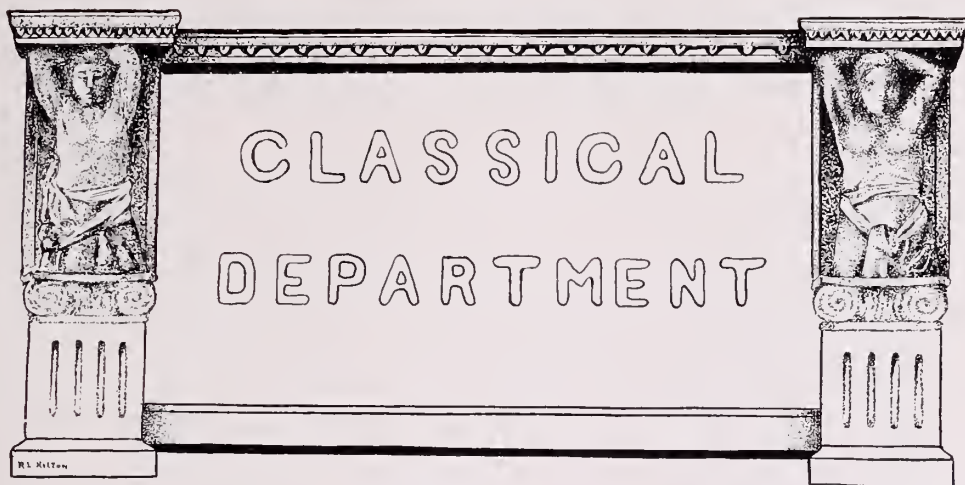

Relative to the style and size of the book, we decided to follow the precedent established last year. This precedent was established because of the ill feeling aroused by personal comment in individual histories.

Before concluding, we wish to thank heartily those who, by their untiring efforts, have aided us greatly with drawings, articles, and grinds.

CLASS & HISTORIES &

THE JUNIOR YEAR

T all began one rainy morning in September, 1905, when seventy-one of us, green and shaky, tottered into the old Chapel for the first time. For a day or two we all felt just about as tearful as the weather, and wished that we had never left our "mamas," but after "Pap" had set us right on our schedules and we started to get acquainted, we began to clap our baby hands in high glee, for we discovered that there was another "nursery" besides the one at home.

In November we went down to Exeter and saw "Hennie" Hobbs and his team of wonders win that 28-0 game from MacFayden's bunch, who were the favorites with the bettors. Little need be said about that game, for everybody hears all about it before he has been in Andover a week. It had special significance to us, however, because Jackson, who played one of the guards, was a 1909 man, and because on that night we saw our first celebration.

The winter term was one long Marathon, and the points on the course that we came to know only too well were "Doc's" gym classes, the Registrar's office, and "Pap's" room, Number 4, and we often wished that we hadn't entered "the classic event." But things were a little brighter on Wednesdays and Saturdays, for Fred Murphy's basket-ball team and "Grove" Fell's hockey team were getting away with the majority of their games.

With the Spring term came many things. The baseball team, under the leadership of "Barney" Reilly, trimmed both Yale and Harvard, not in New Haven and Cambridge, but right here before our very eyes where we might see and rejoice. Those weren't the only victories, but there was one defeat that always will be remembered on account of an event which occurred on the same evening. I speak of our defeat on May 24th at the hands of Princeton, 5-0, and the "ducking" in Rabbit's Pond of a local inn-keeper. The less said about the latter event, the better, for it is an old story here which has been coupled with numerous exaggerations from time to time. It was at this point that the Student Council did its first work. It was a trying time for that body, for some twenty-odd fellows had to leave school, but the Council did good work in several instances.

After the "ducking trouble" blew over, we took another trip to Exeter with Captain Albertus Yale Bartholomew and the track team. As the end of the meet approached, the points were close, and the outcome centered on the high jumping of Fred Richmond, now deceased. He cleared the bar at a winning height, but the judges decided that his jump was illegal. "Herb" Chase and that ever present camera of his were on deck, however, and "Herb" got a fine picture of the jump. The snap-shot was sent to the President of the A. A. U., and that dignitary declared the jump to be legal, and the decision was reversed, Andover winning $48\frac{1}{2}$ - $47\frac{1}{2}$.

The next week Exeter was our guest in a base-ball game on Brother's Field. The day was ideal and the crowd immense. At the beginning of the seventh inning the score was 2-1 against us, and things looked dark. Then the fun started. Fels was on first. Langan came to bat and hit a home run right through the legs of Captain Cooney of Exeter. The two runs were enough to win the game, and that night we had another mixture of "red-fire, music, speeches, and bon-fire."

There are only thirteen men now in school who were here that year,—Burch, Reilly, Hubbard, Dougherty, Sawyer, Webster, F. C. Hall, Hamilton, Cone, Partridge, Kimball, E. H. Williams, and Tree—, but I feel confident that they will all agree with me in that it was as good a year as we ever had in scholastic as well as in athletic branches.

D. C. DOUGHERTY.

JUNIOR MIDDLE YEAR

APPRECIATING the fact that we were no longer "Preps," it was with great thankfulness that "1909" returned to school for its Junior Middle year. The class had been despised as "Preps," but now it was determined to make a name for itself, and gain the coveted recognition of the Middlers and Seniors. 1909 first attracted attention in the fall meet, in which it carried off the honors of the day — winning both the meet and the relay event from the other classes. Those on the relay team were: Lewis, Taylor, K. Reynolds, and Adams.

The football team was now rounding into fine shape. Dr. O'Connor was with us once more, and "Sid" Peet, as usual, was keeping the men in the best of condition. We defeated Exeter that fall 6-0. Captain Daly's men earned a hard-fought game. Representing 1909 were Earle Rosendale and Fred Richmond. After foot-ball "Dóc." Page arranged his forces and started us all on the "road to Wellville."

Following the long Xmas vacation, came the winter term. 1909 lost few members at the end of the fall term and was encouraged to take up the hard work of the winter term with the same zeal with which it had started the year. With basket-ball, hockey and indoor track, a most enjoyable winter was passed. Besides the athletic contests, we had several entertaining concerts from the musical clubs and an excellent farce given by the Dramatic club. 1909 was represented in all these latter organizations, — so strongly that lack of space forbids the list of names.

At length the days began to lengthen and 1909 found itself enjoying the warm, balmy days of spring. With these fine days came bright prospects of making a clean sweep once more over Exeter. The track team was the first to administer defeat to our New Hampshire rivals. The bitter cup was first tasted when the team took the Harvard Interscholastic by an overwhelming score, and a second time on Memorial Day when the team won a decided victory — scoring $56\frac{1}{2}$ to Exeter's $39\frac{1}{2}$. From 1909 were Dowling, Hamilton, Lewis, Rosendale, and Hubbard.

Close upon the Track Meet came the base-ball game, which was played at Exeter. Barney Reilly was captain of the team for his second year, and, with the assistance of Mr. Stearns and "Charlie" Clough, had turned out a strong team. Its strength could not be better shown than by presenting defeat to Exeter, 3-2. L. F. Burdett was the only member of 1909 on the team.

After the Exeter game, the time hurried on to Commencement, when we left the good old school for our summer vacations, each one of us cherishing the thought that at the end of our long, happy vacation we could return as Middlers, ready to put forth our strongest and best efforts for a year, even superior to the one we had passed through as Junior Middlers.

BURT C. HUBBARD.

MIDDLE YEAR

URELY no Middle Class ever took up its work in Andover with greater pride and joy than did the Class of 1909 in the fall of 1907. Since the previous spring, we had increased our numbers, and were now one hundred and thirty-three strong.

As usual, the first thing we did was to bend our energies in every possible manner to promote the interests of the various school organizations. Since foot-ball held full sway, many of our class reported to Captain Merritt and Coach Lillard when the call for candidates was issued. At first, the prospects did not look exceedingly bright for a champonship team, for we had only three veterans back, and much of the new material looked rather green and comparatively light. However, after a quite successful season, we met Exeter on their own field one pleasant afternoon in November, and before a large and enthusiastic crowd of spectators showed our superiority by defeating them to the tune of 9-6. Some even now say that they can still see Porter's 45-yard goal from the field, and hear the applause of the thousands. Unquestionably, this victory was due largely to the playing of one of our own classmates, Rosendale; and the team, in appreciation of his good work, chose him captain for the next year. Coates, another '09 man, also took part in this game.

After enjoying a royal celebration, we set to our books, and began to grind in order to pass our fall term's work. At the same time, some of the basket-ball men started light practice. After a brief period, the holidays arrived, and we bade Andover farewell for a three week's vacation.

This went all too soon, and, on the morning of January 9th, we hastened from the railroad station to the Chapel in order to be in our respective seats before 9.30 o'clock. After a short exercise, we reported individually, and the hard winter's term was begun.

At the same time, the basket-ball and hockey teams began their routine of practice. In their competitions, both teams were comparatively successful—both teams winning a majority of their games. Again we showed our interest and ability in athletics by having several men on each squad, and two men on each team. In basket-ball, Litchfield and Snell did our part; in hockey, McLean and Reynolds were members of '09.

However, be it said to her praise, our class was not engrossed in athletics to the exclusion of all things else. Nor were the various branches of athletics the only school organizations in which our class was interested during our Middle year. That for which we were in Andover above every other thing was education. Besides having Webster, an '09 man, win the Means prize, we had Rosendale in the competition. At the end of each term, we were able to read the names of many men in our class on the first and second honor rolls. In addition, we possessed men on both the Phillipian and the Mirror boards.

In the midst of all the rush of school life (and how strenuous the life here has been!) members of our class managed to find time to participate in the different musical clubs. Few classes have had a larger representation on those clubs than did we in our Middle year. On the Mandolin club we had six; on the Banjo, nine; and on the Glee club, ten. Fortunately, the quantity was no detriment to the quality, for the clubs were never better. For the first time in the history of Andover and Exeter, the two school musical organizations held a joint concert in the Andover Town hall which was a decided success. After this concert, the clubs went to Rogers Hall and Miss Chamberlain's school in Boston. Upon their return, we all set our faces toward home, and on April the first, bade each other goodbye for the Easter vacation.

Nine days later, at the tolling of the bell, we gathered in Chapel to begin the last term of our Middle year. Already the baseball squad had returned, and was working hard to get into shape for the first game. It delighted us to see the blades of grass turn green and the trees blossom. As soon as possible, the track team began work, but at the very outset seemed destined for defeat. At the Yale Interscholastic, fortune graciously smiled upon us, and we came off with a victory. On the contrary, at Exeter, "Thumbs were down," and we lost. Since it was the first time in several years, we did not bewail our fate, but took the defeat as becomes Andover men and members of the class of 1909.

This defeat, I am inclined to think, really did us a great deal of good. Our baseball team worked harder, and was more determined to win. The school's interest in the team was quickened, and as a result, we all hoped for a grand and glorious celebration. Nor were we denied. The game was played on the afternoon of June 6th, and, on the same evening, amid the glare of red lights, with hearts almost bursting with enthusiasm, we marched behind a barge filled with heroes, singing with might and main, "Old Andover is Champion." On the campus that night, members of our class, Bennett, Burdett, and Snell, told how we won to the score of 5 to 3.

After this, we gave up everything that would detract from our studies, and began in earnest to prepare for our college examinations. On June 16th, in accordance with the time stated in the school calendar, our Middle year came to a close.

CARL W. HAMILTON.

SENIOR YEAR

AS there ever an Andover student who did not feel his importance, when for the last time, he returned to Phillips Academy in the dignified role of a Senior? It was with this feeling of self-importance that the class of 1909, as all other former classes, returned to the Old Hill last Fall. Such a feeling was more than justifiable when one considers what the class has done in all branches of the school life.

Our first attention was first turned to the football practise on Brother's field. There we found Captain Coates and Mr. Lillard working hard with three "A" men and a lot of new material, with which to round out a team that would humble the red and grey. Manager L. F. Burdett had arranged an excellent schedule, and our hopes for a victory over Exeter were greatly increased by the excellent showing of the team against its opponents. November fifth was certainly an ideal day for football, and all Andover's and Exeter's followers were there, forming the usual large crowd. The first half resulted in no score, but in the second half, the blue, coming back with a determination to win, scored two touch-downs, making the score 12-0. That night the "Preps" got a taste of an Andover celebration. Later, the class football series resulted in a tie between 1909 and 1910 for the championship.

Hockey, basketball, and the work of the track men indoors and on the board track, occupied our attention during the winter term. The hockey team made a creditable showing, but was deprived of most of its important games by the unfavorable weather. Lee and McLean represented the class on the team, while Lanius managed it. In basketball, Captain Snell certainly turned out one of the best teams that Andover has had in some years. Without a defeat, this team completed the excellent schedule which Manager D. C. Dougherty had arranged. Snell, Litchfield, E. L. Reilly, and Coates received the "BAA". At the B. A. A. indoor meet, Andover defeated Exeter in the relay race for the first time in six years; but, although Exeter did win the meet, we certainly have a right to be proud of the relay team that "Sid" Peet turned out. Burch and West were the 1909 men on this team.

This year's Junior Prom., held on February nineteenth was certainly a great credit to the class of 1910. It is needless to add that every Senior who attended had a good time. The class seems to have taken exceptional interest in the musical clubs this year, whether on account of a fondness for music, or for the trips to Rogers' Hall and Bradford. The combined Exeter and Andover concert was held in Exeter this year, and was as successful as the former one held in Andover last year. Men from the class of 1909 composed over half the members of the musical clubs. On the Mandolin Club were; Shuman, leader; Meacham, Kuhn, Owen, Creighton, Beddall, Partridge, Arnold, Woolverton, Scragg, and M. H. Smith; on the Banjo Club; Partridge, leader, Shuman, Kimball, Flanders, Meacham, Cone, Pittman, Scragg, Haynes, and M. H. Smith; on the Glee Club; C. Hamilton F. C. Hall, Litchfield, E. H. Williams, Bass, Colver, Woodward, Seeley, Pittman, and Waterbury.

With the Spring term, once more comes around the best time of the year at Andover. The baseball team is hard at work on Brothers' Field, track men are working out on the track, and all over the hill may be seen groups of boys engaged in some kind of outdoor exercise. Everyone is happy, and sometimes, but not always busy. The track team, in the Harvard and Yale Interscholastic meets, was the first to attract our attention. Although in both of these meets we received third place—Exeter taking second in both,—our hopes for a victory over Exeter were not at all diminished, because some of our best men had not been entered in these two meets. When the final day came, on May thirty-first, we found that "Sid" Peet had turned out a team that once more humbled Exeter. Andover had an uphill fight, but the same old "Andover Spirit" pulled the team through to victory. The meet, although it seemed all Exeter at first, was close enough at the finish; Andover 49, Exeter 47. Hubbard, M. J. Hayes, West, Burch, Pickett, Blakeslee, and J. D. Thompson were the 1909 men who won points in the meet. All through the spring, the baseball team, under the coaching of ex-Captain J. A. Reilly, has made a good showing, defeating the Freshmen teams of Yale, Harvard, and Pennsylvania, and holding the Harvard and Yale varsity teams by the scores of 3-0 and 2-1. One of the most pleasing victories of the early season was that over Mercersburg by the score of 3-0. So far Captain Burdett, Bennett, and Snell have played the same steady game as last year. Manager C. Hamilton deserves a great deal of credit for the good schedule he has arranged. Andover meets Exeter at Exeter on June fifth.

One of the most commendable actions of the school this year is the step made toward raising a fund for a school swimming pool and recreation building. In this movement Litchfield and C. Hamilton represented the class. To Hamilton, who is at the head of the project, is certainly due the great advances which have been made.

To most of us graduation cannot come too soon, but when we look back upon the past years, there comes a feeling of regret that these final few weeks will be our last, as students of Phillips Academy.

P. B. LANIUS.

THE Class of 1909 has always been of a conservative mind. Accordingly, during its "prep" year, it carefully suppressed its budding literary talent and allowed it to develop under cover, considerably letting the other classes have the field a year longer. As we look back from the present at our literary representation, we must congratulate ourselves on our beginning, and we would give to, and everlastingly impress every "prep" class with this single admonition: For preps, modesty is the one and only, first and best policy.

During the Junior Middle year, 1909 began its literary career and at the end of school in June had its full share of literary work in capable hands. To the Phillipian Board were elected W. H. Southworth, J. Sawyer, and R. E. Coleman, while on the Mirror 1909's representatives were W. V. Gardiner, assistant managing-editor, N. C. Palmer, assistant business-manager, and J. Sawyer, A. L. Baur, and G. A. Wilson on the associate board. F. W. Kroehle took a leading part in the Dramatic Club play of that year; and Batchelder in the Means competition, and Mosser in the Draper contest were 1909's public speakers.

The following year marks a distinct increase of 1909's influence. On the Phillipian, W. H. Southworth was assistant managing-editor, and R. M. Demeré assistant business-manager. J. Sawyer, R. E. Coleman, A. W. Peck, E. W. Freeman, and W. J. Bass were members of its editorial board. The Mirror Board was, with the exception of one member, made up of 1909 men. J. Sawyer was managing-editor, N. C. Palmer, business-manager, A. L. Baur, assistant managing-editor, C. B. Rockwell, assistant business-manager, and G. A. Wilson and A. Sheldon were associate editors. A. P. Foss was business-manager of the Pot-Pourri, and R. E. Litchfield was assistant business-manager. In the Means contest E. J. Webster won first honors, while F. B. Thwing, L. F. Henze, E. A. Rosendale, and A. Sheldon all spoke well. F. B. Thwing and G. A. Wilson spoke for the Draper prizes.

And now, after having gone through two years of unusual activity, 1909 has, in its Senior year, showed that it is not content to rest on its laurels won, but has endeavored to make this, its last year, its best. The Phillipian this year has been managed by J. Sawyer and W. J. Bass. R. M. Demeré and E. W. Freeman have controlled its business interests, and of the editorial board F. T. Bennett and W. H. Baldwin, Jr., have been members. G. A. Wilson has been managing-editor of the Mirror, and J. Sawyer, A. Sheldon, J. W. Twichell, and F. B. Kugleman have been associate-editors. R. M. Burch and R. E. Litchfield were managing-editor and business-manager of the Pot-Pourri of this year, and J. Shuman and W. J. Bass were on the editorial board. The class revived the Dramatic Club, which was given up last year, and produced "Class Day", a one act farce in which W. F. Woodward, H. S. West, P. B. Lanius, and F. S. Meacham took parts. H. E. Pickett, E. W. Freeman, W. F. Woodward, M. W. Brush, G. S. Torrey, and F. C. Hall were chosen to speak in the Means contest. G. S. Torrey won first prize, and H. E. Pickett the third. For the Draper competition commencement week, E. W. Freeman, M. W. Brush, H. E. Pickett, and F. B. Thwing have been selected, and with these representatives the class is sure of its share of honors.

The Class of 1909 has worked, and worked hard, to uphold the literary side of the school life. Each has done his part, however small, and the Class leaves the result for those who will, to judge.

J. S.

ATHLETICS

THE Class of 1909 has been one of the most energetic and successful classes which has ever been graduated from P. A. Since the class entered the school, we have a record of nine victories over Exeter out of a possible ten and are at present looking forward to a couple more. Every member of the class should feel proud of the part that 1909 has played in acquiring these victories.

The class entered as "preps" in the fall of 1905. Like nearly all "prep" classes, it had no representatives on the teams that year. We enjoyed our first celebration when our rivals from New Hampshire were humbled in football by the score of 28 to 0. We saw what a victory meant and liked it so well that we decided to work hard to get many more. In the spring, Exeter was defeated in track by the close of 48½ to 47½. The baseball team, after a most successful season, beat Exeter 3 to 2. Thus our first year ended most auspiciously.

The next year we were exalted over the fact that we were no longer "preps". The football team was victorious over Exeter, 6-0. Rosendale was the only representative of the class. The track meet which was held at Andover ended in a victory for us, 56 1-3 to 36 2-3. The class was represented by Rosendale, Hubbard, and Dowling. We made it three straight by winning the ball game at Exeter by the same score as the previous year. The class contributed J. A. Reilly and L. Burdett. Thus our "ex-prep" year ended most gloriously.

The fall soon came around and our desire for victories over our rivals seemed to be growing more intense. We started our third year with a victory over Exeter by the score of 9 to 6. Rosendale, Murchie, and Coates figured prominently in this victory. Rosendale was elected to lead the team for the following year. In the winter the basket-ball team had a very successful season. The class contributed Litchfield and Snell. The latter became captain of the team for the next year. Soon spring was here again and we lost our first meet with Exeter since 1909 entered the school when the track team was defeated by the score of 56 2-3 to 39 1-3. The class was represented by Rosendale, Dowling, West, Hubbard, and Hayes. Undaunted by this defeat, we looked forward to the baseball game. The team was led by J. A. Reilly, and although it was not the best team that ever represented old P. A., it was one that had the fighting Andover spirit. After a hard fought game, victory came our way, 5 to 3. Besides Captain Reilly, the class contributed L. Burdett, Snell, and Bennett. In the class baseball series of the year, 1909 won the championship. Thus our third year ended very favorably.

The next Fall, and our last, started in with football, and 1909 finished her football career with a victory over Exeter by the score of 12 to 0. The class contributed Captain Coates and Waterman. The class football games resulted in a tie between 1909 and 1910, and both classes received numerals. In the winter, the basketball team had a most successful season, winning every game. Captain Snell and Litchfield represented the class. At the B. A. A. Meet, the relay team was victorious over Exeter. Burch and West were the 1909 men on this team.

The prospects of cleaning up Exeter in track and baseball are good. Captain Hopwood leads the track team, and Captain Burdett, of 1909, is piloting the baseball team. Both teams are strong, and will surely win out. There is no doubt but that 1909 has been the best and most progressive class that has ever entered Andover.

H. E. BENNETT.

AS the clubs were somewhat late in starting in the Fall, the Annual Fall Concert was not given until the Winter Term. This year, we gave an extra concert for the benefit of the Lawrence Mission Society in the Lawrence City Hall. The audience was a very enthusiastic one.

The Winter Term kept the clubs extremely busy. We took four out-of-town trips, besides giving the Fall Concert in the Town Hall. The first trip was on January 30, to Rogers Hall, in Lowell. Our next concert was on February 5, in the Town Hall. On February 27, we went to Bradford Academy, in Haverhill, where the clubs have not been for several years. Two weeks later we gave a concert in the Lawrence City Hall. The Clubs ended up the season with a trip to Exeter, where they gave the second joint concert with the Exeter clubs. The fellows who went, had a great time and certainly were entertained very royally.

DEBATING

DEBATING no longer holds the place which it once held in the American school and college. In the first place, it was much emphasized a hundred years ago, when the aims of both school and college were somewhat narrow as compared with the present. Again, with the introduction of the much wider curriculum and heavier schedule, many fellows find it impossible to devote the time it requires. Finally,—and doubtless the most important reason—it has been forced into competition with numerous other activities in school life which did not exist a few years ago. Taking these facts into consideration, we may well be proud of our two well-organized debating societies with a total membership of about eighty.

In 1906, our first year, on the initiative of Paul Michael Piel, the Andover Debating Union was organized, to arrange for and have charge of inter-school debates. One of the immediate results was the first Andover-Exeter debate. While the Andover team of 1906, composed of Meigs Oliver Frost, Louis Aloysius Mahoney, and Guy Spaulding Deming, did high credit to the school, the decision was against them. In 1907 Edward Jerome Webster, Henry Gemmer, and Matthew Griswold Ely won the second Andover-Exeter debate. In 1908 Washington Platt, Edward Jerome Webster, and William Nelson Allen represented Andover in the third debate with Exeter. The decision was given to Exeter. This year George Safford Torrey, Herbert Elmer Pickett, and Lucian Platt were on the Andover team.

The annual Philo-Forum Debate for the Robinson Prizes continues to excite keen interest. Forum, represented by Meigs Oliver Frost, Paul Michael Piel, and Louis Aloysius Mahoney, won in 1906. Again in 1907 Forum won, represented by Edward Jerome Webster, Oliver Eugene Mosser, and Henry Gemmer. In 1908, for the first time in four years, Philo won the debate, with William Nelson Allen, Washington Platt, and Sherman Hoar Bowles on the team. This year another victory was won for Forum by Herbert Elmer Pickett, Adolphus Washington Greely and Harold Hall Hartwell. Forum is, therefore, still far in the lead, having won eleven of the seventeen Philo-Forum debates.

It is noteworthy that the men who have excelled in debating during our time have developed while here in school, and several of them are '09 men.

Our debating societies still have an important place in school life. How well they fill that place will, in the future as in the past, depend upon the progressive and co-operative spirit of their members. If coming classes will but contribute as much as has 1909, the cause will be safe.

Edward Jerome Webster.

THE YALE NORTHFIELD DELEGATION

RELIGIOUS

IN the autumn of 1908, through the interest of certain active and ex-members of the Society of Inquiry, Social Service work of a practical kind was started among some of the foreigners and poor boys of Lawrence. The work of the past year (1908-'09) has been of two kinds. Certain fellows have each been going over one evening in every week, to lead gymnasium classes in the Lawrence Boy's Club — an institution founded for the benefit of the boys who would otherwise spend their evenings in the streets. Secondly, several teams of two fellows each have been leading English classes every week. The classes have been arranged under the auspices of the Lawrence Y. M. C. A., the secretary of which has had general charge of this branch of the work. They are composed for the most part of grown-up men — Italians and Syrians — who are anxious to learn English so that they can be advanced faster in the mills where most of them work. The attempts of this year are just a beginning. It is hoped that next year the fellows will respond even more generously to the call for help in this practical Christian work, and that it will grow to be an important factor in School life.

ANDOVER AT NORTHFIELD

Twelve fellows went as the Andover Delegation to the Northfield Student Conference from June 26 to July 5, 1908. The men stayed in East Hall with the Yale delegation, to whom they wish to extend their heartfelt thanks for the reception and good time they enjoyed.

The following fellows composed the delegation:

"A WOMAN'S WAY" OR "A FOOL THERE WAS."

"The Merry Widow", otherwise known as "Polly of the Circus", gave "The Girl Behind the Counter" a "Soul Kiss" in "Havana", and, taking "A Desperate Chance", sailed for England to visit the "Belle of Mayfair". But she was caught in "Three Weeks" by "Secret Service Sam" and put through "The Third Degree." But after he was "Paid in Full", he found "The Easiest Way" was to let her escape "Across the Pacific". While in San Francisco, she met "Chinatown Charlie", and they went to be married on "The Dawn of Tomorrow". But "No Wedding Bells for Her", because he met "Nellie the Beautiful Cloak Model" and left her "Waiting at the Church". But she found she couldn't live on "Blue Grass", so she played the part of "Miss Innocence" and married "The Man From Home" on account of his "Brewster's Millions". But he lost it all on a horse named "Wildfire:" so they went "Way Down East" "In Old Kentucky" to "The Old Homestead" to live. But the gay life of this "Queen of the Moulin Rouge" made "Samson", the head "Servant of the House", take an offer from "The House Next Door", which was a "Beauty Spot" to him. But by "What Every Woman Knows", and by "Going Some", the pair managed to keep the "Wolf" from the door. The 'Climax' of "An Englishman's Home" came with his getting a letter from "The Girl From Rector's", and packing his clothes, he answered the "Call of the North". Then she took the "Three Twins" on a visit to see "The Gentleman From Mississippi", her best friend in those dear old "School Days" and provider of rides on "The Merry-Go-Round". But he spent "Ten Nights in a Barroom", saw a "Blue Mouse", and went to "The Devil".

PHILLYS ANDOVER

MR. HINMAN—"Why did Hannibal cross the Alps."

CHARLEY ARNOLD—"Same reason the hen had fur crossin' the road. You can't fool me with no conundrums."

MR. SANBORN—"Hunter what is a blush?"

ROLAND HUNTER—"A blush is a temporary erythema and caloric effulgence of the physiognomy, aetologized by the perceptiveness of the sensorium, in a predicament of enequilibrium, from a sense of shame, anger, or other cause. eventuating in a persis of the vasomotorial, muscular filaments of the facial capillaries, whereby being divested of their elasticity, they become suffused with a radiance emanating from an intimidated præcordia."

Little Jack Horner
Sat in a corner
Killing a stiff exam.
By the aid of his neighbor
He avoided much labor—
"What a student," he pondered, "I am."

PROF.—"Why are you always behind in your studies?"

STUDENT—"Because, if I were not behind, I could not pursue them."

FRY—"Gee! What a swell moon."

MR. MCCURDY—(at beginning of year) "Now boys, it is just as easy for you fellows to get these formulas as it is for me to remember your names."

TWO MINUTES LATER—"What is your name—you in the front row?"

POT - POURRI 1909

A stands for Adams with a head like a tack.

B — for a sliver, whose last name is Black.

C — is for Colwell with his nose in the air.

D is for Decker who with girls is “right there”.

E stands for Elliott, a fresh prep. in town.

F is for Fessenden of equal renown.

G is for Gamble, a fat head no doubt.

H is for Hanna, a sport here about.

I stands for Ingraham better left out of the story.

J is for Jones alone in his glory.

K stand for Keeline, a big Council Bluff.

L is for Lewis, and this is enough.

M stands for Marache with his continual grouch.

N is for Nerney with his Rah-Rah slouch.

O stands for Owen, a would-be sport.

P is for Paine with his ready retort.

R stands for Reed, an athlete no doubt.

S is for Stores, a prep. rather loud.

T is for Thwing with his head always bowed.

U stands for Ungvary, a sort of a chump.

V is for Vogel, who has a slight bump.

W stands for Wallace, a fair-haired dream.

Y is for Young, a terrible scream.

Here I will stop, but I feel I should mention

The above was written with the best of intention.

WHERE QUALITY COUNTS

and other merchandise he is known to sell.

Quality is the first thought here. The perfect quality of all our many lines of drug store goods has created a reputation of value to us.

Medicines, drugs, chemicals, toilet articles, rubber goods, sick-room supplies and nursery helps--all are of the best; all carefully selected for class and grade. And this perfect quality costs the buyer no more than the unreliable kind.

PHILLIPS ACADEMY

ANDOVER· MASSACHUSETTS

ALFRED E. STEARNS, Principal

The Academy prepares large classes of young men for College, the scientific schools,, and in some cases for the professional schools.

The faculty consists of thirty-one professors and instructors.

The pupils this year number over four hundred and fifty, less than one-half of whom are from New England, and the others from more distant places.

The next term begins September 16, 1909, with vacations at Christmas and Easter.

The expenses vary from $300.00 to $500.00 a year, according to the accommodations selected.

The income of benevolent funds and scholarship endowments amounts to five thousand a year.

The present needs of the Academy are funds for building, for teachers' salaries, and for general current expenses. For further information and for copies of the annual catalogue, address,
